Class 8 - Shiraz

Number of Exhibits in Class: 13

Despite the high strike rate we were slightly disappointed given the reputation of 2010, but maybe the best wines were not all in this class. The wines had brightness, and much more subtle use of oak than in 2008, for example. The top wines showed different flavour spectrums, both very legitimate Shiraz styles.

Class 14 - Cabernet Sauvignon

Number of Exhibits in Class: 49

A class of two halves - there were a lot of forward developed, rather stale wines, some of which also had excessively drying tannins. Then there were the good wines, with freshness, bright colours and vibrant fruit. Many highlights and a high strike rate for medals, top gold was awarded for its power and its gloriously ripe fruit

Three Year Old - 2008				The hot year has produced mainly chocolate and licorice flavours and not so much spice and the wines are a bit advanced, but we were pleased to see few dead fruit or raisined wines. A couple showed Brett. Top wines had balanced oak and alcohol; seamless, elegant palates, and a degree of complexity.

A fascinating collection of mature reds. Interesting to see some wines vibrant and youthful where others from the same vintage looked dull and tired. Some judges expressed concern over hard, unintegrated tannins in wines of an age where one might expect the tannins to be folding into the wine. The two golds were quite different in style but both classic expressions of Cabernet.
